Global Policy Fellowship

Harvard Law School's Animal Law & Policy Program is inviting immediate applications for a full-time position to supervise several initiatives related to animal law and policy in India and East Asia, and to undertake research, writing, and scholarly engagement on related academic projects in the field of animal law and policy.

Responsibilities additionally will include assisting the Animal Law & Policy Program and Clinic on other specific research questions and projects as needed. The work will be conducted in person at Harvard Law School.

Applicants must have a J.D., LL.M., or S.J.D., a background in animal welfare, and direct experience in the region. The Fellow will be paid a salary commensurate with experience and receive HLS employee benefits.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, so applicants are encouraged to submit their materials as soon as possible. Work will commence as soon as a candidate is selected.

To apply for this position, please submit the following materials via the online application form:

- Resume
- Cover letter
- Two references
- Recent, individually authored writing sample
