On 09/02/2019 State EnCon Police were notified by █ (DOB: █) that she had an opossum with an injured snout in her possession and she would be attempting to save and rehabilitate it. █ is one of the states licenses wildlife rehabilitators. █ further advised the opossum was found with a metal trap on its face █ in Branford. █ advised the opossum was female, approximately 1.5 years old, had a laceration on the snout, and had a possible broken jaw. █ advised she also had the trap and wanted to turn it over to State EnCon Police.

On 09/03/2019 Officer Kerr #687 met with █ and took possession of the trap as evidence. I later examined the trap and identified it as a Duke Trap: West Point Miss, size: 1 1/2 cs "D" unpadded leg hold trap. The trap was not labeled with the owner / trappers name as required. The trap has been secured as evidence at State EnCon Police Marine HQ in Old Lyme. An 'Inventory of Property Seized Without a Search Warrant' has been completed.

In the days following the initial complaint I met with █ (DOB: █) who is the homeowner at █ in Branford where the opossum was located injured with the trap on its face. █ showed me where she located the opossum in her back yard. █ advised she found the opossum mobile with the trap stuck on its face, realized it was injured, and it was subsequently turned over to [REDACTED] for rehabilitation. [REDACTED] advised she has a few neighbors with large gardens and suggested someone might have been trying to keep wildlife away from gardens.

A knock and talk / neighborhood canvas was conducted. On 09/07/2019 I spoke with [REDACTED] (DOB: [REDACTED]) at his residence located at [REDACTED] in Branford. [REDACTED] property backs up to [REDACTED] they share a property boundary line. I explained to [REDACTED] I was investigating an opossum that was found in his neighbors yard with a metal trap on its face. I asked [REDACTED] if he knew anything about it. [REDACTED] advised me he has several large food gardens in his back yard and has been having a hard time keeping wildlife from destroying his crops. [REDACTED] advised he has several 'have a heart' traps set and staked down around his gardens. [REDACTED] also advised he has two metal unpadded leg hold traps staked down around his gardens. [REDACTED] advised he noticed one of the leg hold traps was missing and he could not find it. [REDACTED] advised he bought the leg hold traps recently. I described the trap found on the opossums and [REDACTED] advised me it sounded like his missing trap. I asked [REDACTED] if I showed him a picture of the trap if he would be able to recognize it as his. [REDACTED] advised he would recognize it.

I asked [REDACTED] to show me his gardens and traps. [REDACTED] willingly showed me several large gardens in his back yard within 100 feet of his residence. The gardens were vegetable gardens. None of the gardens had fencing around them as a deterrent to wildlife. [REDACTED] showed me several metal 'have a heart' traps he had set around the edges of his gardens. The 'have a heart' traps were staked down and appeared secure to the ground. None of the traps were labeled. I asked [REDACTED] to show me the second leg hold trap, he advised it was not out in the yard. [REDACTED] advised after the last leg hold trap went missing he stopped setting the remaining one because he did not know why it was missing. [REDACTED] advised the other leg hold trap was in his basement and invited me there to see it. I asked [REDACTED] how the missing leg hold trap was affixed to the ground. [REDACTED] advised he used a fiber glass snow removal marker pole that was approximately 3 feet high. I asked [REDACTED] how often he checks his traps and he advised every day.

Per CT General Statute 26-72 a land owner has the right set any legal steel trap, in any place, within 100 feet of their home, for any fur bearing animal except deer, and at anytime. The land owner must also check their traps every twenty four hours and must have their traps labeled with their name. In speaking with [REDACTED] and viewing the vegetable gardens in his back yard it was determined that [REDACTED] was not trapping fur bearing animals for sport or business. [REDACTED] was trapping to protect his crops. Because of this of this law [REDACTED] is exempt from having a trapping license. [REDACTED] trap was set legally according to the law with the exception of it not being labeled.

On 11/26/2016 I met with [REDACTED] at his residence. I showed [REDACTED] a photo of the unpadded metal trap State EnCon Police seized and he advised me the trap was his missing one. I went over with [REDACTED] CT General Statute 26-72 so he was aware of the requirements to trap on his land for nuisance wildlife issues related to his gardens. I provided Laska a copy of the law. I also suggested to [REDACTED] that he put up fencing around his gardens as an alternative to trapping. I advised [REDACTED] his only violation was failing to have his traps labeled with his name. [REDACTED] was advised all traps must have his name on them prior to being reset in the future. [REDACTED] was very apologetic, remorseful, and open minded to making some adjustments in his garden set up and wildlife issues. [REDACTED] advised me he was not aware the trap needed to be labeled on his own property for nuisance wildlife. [REDACTED] was issued a Written Warning for violation of CT General Statute 26-72 Failure to Label Traps. [REDACTED] trap was returned to him at the conclusion of this investigation due to a written warning being

One unmarked foothold trap found on stray cat.

On 8/8/2020 at approximately 0807 hours, I was informed by dispatch that a complainant, identified as [REDACTED] ([REDACTED]), reported that a stray cat with an attached foothold trap had been brought to the All Friends Animal Hospital in Norwich, CT the previous day on 8/7/2020.

[REDACTED] stated that Norwich Animal Control Officer (ACO) C.J. Bourne brought the cat to the All Friends Animal Hospital. In speaking with Officer Bourne, a Norwich police officer who is acting as the ACO, he stated that he found the cat roaming around the area of 36 Peck St in Norwich. The cat had no collar and was found with a small foothold trap on it while dragging the trap's chain. Bourne brought it to the All Friends Animal Hospital for treatment. [REDACTED] a professional veterinary surgery technician stated, based on the infection on the cat's leg, that she believed the trap had been on the cat's leg for several days. Due to the severity of the infection the cat was euthanised.

On 8/10/2020 I retrieved the trap from All Friends Animal Hospital. Upon inspection I could see that the trap was rusty, unpadding and bore no markings identifying the owner or a licensed trapper. I completed a JDCR-18 and logged the trap as evidence at DEEP Eastern District Headquarters.

I visited the area of 36 Peck St and asked several neighbors and the regular US Postal Service letter carrier if they had seen any such traps in the past or knew of anyone in the neighborhood who was setting such traps.
